

Special Flower Design Contest Application Guidelines

Call for Entries

Special Flower Company is the only botanical printing company in the world that has invented a technology for printing images on the surface of flowers. The combination of patented technical methods and traditional techniques guarantees highly accurate printing. Whatever the content, we will accurately reproduce it on the plant surface.

We support the emergence of outstanding designers who will lead the world in the future. Special Flower® celebrates a world where professionals and amateurs alike can become creative designers and confess their love by decorating printed plants. We invite the public to submit ideas for images to be printed on plants.
